COLLECTION

CR-Heritage Collection, an original product line from Concrete Revolution, LLC, is a polymer-modified overlay system which provides a slip-resistant surface while providing unique color patterns with fewer applications, similar to the popular antiquing painting system. The final result is a timeless, elegant and cost efficient solution. The true-depth application provides craters, swirls of highs and lows and unique layers of colors.

What separates CR-Heritage Collection from other similar products? It's simple - our process. After countless hours of research and development, Keefe has formulated the perfect application process which allows for our unique layers of color patterns to penetrate the surface, while utilizing only one base color. This process results in time and cost saving measurements while providing a unique flooring solution.

CR-Heritage Collection provides the confidence and proven results that consistently meet the quality expectations of our team and trusted clients.
